

Washington Men's Camerata invites partners to join us in preserving and advancing the arts, particularly the tenor-bass choral tradition, while enriching the cultural life of the Washington, DC-area community. With over 60 volunteer singers, ages 20s–80s, a professional core of musicians, and a national library of over 3,000 works, the Camerata offers performances and programs that inspire audiences, educate students, and strengthen our community.

By sponsoring the Camerata, your company will gain visibility among engaged audiences and demonstrate a commitment to supporting the arts, education, and community impact. Your sponsorship supports:

- Event Costs – venue and equipment rentals, production staff, recording
- Free Student Tickets – removing barriers for youth to experience live music
- Professional Musicians – sustaining artistic excellence with paid singers and instrumentalists

Washington Men's Camerata, directed by Scott Tucker, is DC's premier chorus performing, promoting, and preserving diverse tenor and bass choral music and camaraderie since 1984. The Camerata has sung at The Kennedy Center, The White House, Capital One Arena, Smithsonian Institution, National Gallery of Art, Wolf Trap, Strathmore, and across the region; alongside National Symphony Orchestra, The U.S. Army Chorus, Washington Symphonic Brass, Mark Morris Dance Group, Symphony Orchestra of Northern Virginia, and on NPR, PBS, and SiriusXM. The Camerata has recorded six albums and the Washington Commanders fight song. A

501(c)(3) nonprofit, the organization regularly commissions and premieres pieces that become part of their national lending library of sheet music, The Demetrius Project, with over 200,000 scores of 3,300 works. camerata.com
